

ANNOUNCES

Ethics Across the Curriculum and Research Stipends to 17 CSULB Faculty

The Ukleja Center for Ethical Leadership at California State University, Long Beach is providing students from majors as diverse as theatre arts, accountancy, teacher education, recreation and leisure studies, chemical engineering, and history with essential ethical decision-making tools before entering the workforce.

Through one of its key initiatives, Ethics Across the Curriculum, the Ukleja Center offers $3,000 stipends to faculty who integrate a 3-hour ethics module into their courses. By selecting recipients from 6 colleges – Arts, Business, Education, Engineering, Health and Human Services, and Liberal Arts – the Ukleja Center is truly enhancing the integration of ethics across the campus. In addition, the center has recently begun offering $5,000 faculty stipends for original ethics research.

*President Jane Close Conoley, Kathleen Lacey, and Cheryl Rock
Celebrating with the Ukleja Center's Ethics Across the Curriculum Awardees*

The 15 faculty members receiving 2018-2019 pedagogical stipends are:

- Nataliya Acc-Nikmehr – The Ethics of Sustainability
- Lori Brown – Ethically Debatable
- Tiffany Brown – Beyond the Gender Binary: Ethics and Gender Identity during Adolescence
- Maricela Correa – Ethics in Psychology as a Discipline
- Elizabeth Sanchez Denton – Ethics in Broadcast Journalism
- Xuan Huang – Ethics in the Environment of Financial Accounting
- Andrew Jenks – Technological and Ethical Progress in Historical Perspective
- Christine Kang – Ethics in Marketing Practices: Tools and Responsibility
- Ezra LeBank – The Ethics of Physical Boundaries in Performance and Practice
- Sara Moghtadernejad – Ethics in Chemical Engineering Design
- Jyotsna Pattnaik – Teaching Infants and Toddlers: Integrating Ethically Appropriate Pedagogies
- Tianjiao Qiu – Ethics in Integrated Marketing Decision Making
- Soumitro Sen – Ethics in Public Relations in the Era of Social Media
- Tariq Shehab – Professional Ethics in the Construction Engineering Industry
- Heewon Yang – Ethical Considerations within Recreation and Related Fields that Serve People with Disabilities

*Soo Hyun Cho and Belinda Daugherty (in center)
Accepting Faculty Ethics Research Awards from Kathleen Lacey and Cheryl Rock*

This year's ethics research stipend recipients are:

- Soo Hyun Cho – Ethics in Unethical Buying? Understanding Cultural Motives for Counterfeit Purchase Behavior
- Belinda Daughrity – Ethical Knowledge of Speech-Language Pathology Students: Assessing Cultural Competence for Ethical Service Delivery with Culturally, Linguistically Diverse Populations

Faculty received their awards at a campus luncheon attended by President Jane Close Conoley, Deans Forouzan Golshani, Cyrus Parker-Jeannette, Shireen Pavri, and Michael Solt, and Associate Deans Nancy Meyer-Adams and Dan O'Connor. Also attending were the center's directors, Janey Roeder, Kathleen Lacey, and Cheryl Rock, along with several donors.

Over 110 Ethics Across the Curriculum and Faculty Ethics Research stipends have been granted by the Ukleja Center since 2005. All CSULB colleges and disciplines are invited to participate and lecturers, as well as tenured faculty, are encouraged to apply. The application deadline for 2019-2020 proposals is March 1, 2020.

The Ukleja Center for Ethical Leadership offers training to enhance the integration of ethics in everything we do. It focuses on a three-pronged approach to applied ethics – education, university research, and community engagement – to equip people with the transformational power of ethical leadership.

###

Contact: Jane Roeder, Interim Director

Phone: (562) 985-8600