

With nearly 30 years of broad executive experience in several countries, today Sharon Eshett uses her background—and her CSULB degrees—to grow her family's real estate holdings.

A CSULB Finance graduate, she launched her career at Southern California Edison as a financial analyst. A few years later she returned to CSULB for her MBA. Next, she followed our globalizing economy with a home decor company in Israel and in Switzerland with Gucci Timepieces.

Sharon returned to the U.S. and worked in the executive offices of a corporate holding firm and a real estate investment company, ultimately using her experience in consulting, helping a wide range of clients, particularly in transportation and logistics.

Having nearly grown up on campus—in her father's faculty office—Sharon is happy to be back at CSULB sharing her extensive business background on the MBA Advisory Board.
