3. Curriculum Justification:
   The course is aligned with the CBA learning goals of critical thinking, business functions, quantitative, technical skills and ethics.

4. Course Objectives:
   - Critical Thinking Learning Goal: Students will be able to (a) apply time value of money concepts and the risk and return theory and show how they are related to the improvement of business decisions and performance, and (b) show that an analysis of historical financial performance and long-term financial planning can improve business decisions and value.

   - Business Functions Learning Goal: Students will be able to (a) demonstrate that they understand the advantages, and disadvantages and costs of the sources of long-term capital (specifically bonds, preferred stock, and common stock) and how these sources can be used to support the growth of business, and (b) apply capital budgeting techniques to make long-term investment decisions.

   - Quantitative and Technical Skills Learning Goal: Students will be able to (a) apply time value of money quantitative techniques to business information and show how the techniques are related to investment decisions and improvement of business performance, and (b) demonstrate that they can evaluate a firm’s blended cost of capital and understand how it is related to business value.

   - Ethics Learning Goal: Students will be able to (a) distinguish ethical corporate actions from ones that are not, and (b) understand how unethical behavior can lead to a loss of value and decline of a firm.
