Louis Zamperini
The amazing story of Louis Zamperini’s life has become known worldwide through the movie, Unbroken, directed by Angelina Jolie and based on Laura Hillenbrand’s best-selling book.

A trouble-maker growing up in Torrance, Louie became an award-winning high school miler, USC track star, and distance runner on the 1936 USA Olympic team. During World War II, Louie’s plane was shot down and he spent 47 days on a raft before reaching land. He then spent two years in a Japanese prison camp where he was repeatedly tortured.

When the war ended, Louie came home a hero but was plagued by horrific memories. Heading in a downward spiral, Louie turned his life around after hearing a talk by Billy Graham in 1949. From then until his passing at the age of 97 last year, Louie inspired millions by sharing his story about the transformational power of forgiveness.

Living Ethics Every Day will feature a keynote presentation on resilience and forgiveness by Louie’s son, Luke Zamperini. Luke will also accept the Ukleja Center’s 2015 Neil and John Wooden Ethics in Leadership Award honoring Louis Zamperini. Please join us!
