McLean & Yoder (2005) Model

California State University, Long Beach

Component One: Identifying the Moral Dilemma

- How might I frame the dilemma?
- What is my role in resolving the dilemma?
- What are the options?
- What are the consequences?
- What is the desired outcome of each option?

Component Two: Deciding What is Precedent

- Analyze problem according to the ethical principles
- Virtue-based ethics
- Duty-based ethics
- Consequentialist ethics

Component Three: Choosing a Moral Action Plan

- Action must be grounded in the circumstances
Example Case Study

From:

will fill up the heads of dead animals with the idea of getting ready for news and educating people and then have a

Some people are uncomfortable with white mountains.

Finding Conflicts: Heads You Lose, Tails You Win.
What are your available options?
- ...