California State University, Long Beach
Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing

February 11, 2013 from 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. (Nurs 65)
No reservation needed.

Admission Requirements for the School of Nursing:

- Graduation from an accredited Associate Degree Program in Nursing (ADN). If you have graduated from a RN Diploma program, you must obtain a community college evaluation of their nursing school transcripts for junior college credit before applying to the nursing program.
- Grade of “C” or better in all courses.
- Valid California RN license.
- Transfer a minimum of 56 units (70 maximum) to the University. Determination of transferable units is to be made by the Office of Admissions and Records.
- CSU, Long Beach’s Writing Proficiency Exam must be completed as a University requirement the FIRST SEMESTER that you are enrolled.

Admission Requirements for CSU, Long Beach Transfers:

- College grade point average of at least a 2.5
- Completed at least 30 units of courses equivalent to general education requirements with a grade of “C” or better. The 30 units must include College composition (Eng 100), oral communication (Comm. 110, 130), critical thinking (Phil. 170, Psy. 130) and 3 units of quantitative reasoning (Math 112 or statistics). Check equivalency of courses at www.assist.org
- Transfer a maximum of 70 units

Admission Procedure:

- Undergraduates will need to apply to the University through CSUmentor.edu using the undergraduate application as Nursing—RN to BS. Second degree seekers will need to apply to the University through CSUmentor.edu using graduate application as Nursing—RN to Add’l BS. Submit official college transcripts to University per its instructions.
- Request official college transcripts at least 4 weeks prior to the application deadline. One copy of your ADN Degree to be sent to the School of Nursing (Attn: ADN-BSN Program)
- Deadline for CSU, Long Beach Applications:
  - Fall- November 30th
  - Spring- August 31st

Deadline for School of Nursing Applications:
Application procedure is changing. We will post instructions on our website when we know the details.