RECRUITMENT NUMBER: 2202

POSITION: Assistant Professor of Nursing in Informatics

EFFECTIVE DATE: August 17, 2015 (Fall Semester)

SALARY RANGE: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: DNP, DNSc or PhD in Nursing, informatics or related field or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2015; Eligible for licensure as a registered nurse in California; demonstrated potential for effective teaching at the university level. Demonstrate potential for successful research, scholarly and creative activities; demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Master’s degree in nursing with advanced practice specialization as a nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist; national certification as appropriate to clinical or functional area; recent work experience in clinical setting (within the past 5 years); strong background in informatics and experience as a nursing educator in didactic or clinical courses in postsecondary nursing programs; ability to teach in more than one clinical area; record of research, publication or other scholarly and/or creative activities; ability to work effectively in a team-teaching, collegial setting; current knowledge of practice issues; previous experience in curriculum development and instructional technology; success in obtaining external funding through grants and contracts.

DUTIES: Teach didactic and clinical courses at the undergraduate, graduate, and/or doctoral level. Participate in curriculum development, course assessment, student recruitment and retention, advise nursing majors; serve as a member of thesis, directed project, and comprehensive exam committees. Serve as a liaison between clinical agency personnel and the School of Nursing. Maintain ongoing program of scholarship leading to publication.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University’s strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION:

- A Student Success Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page)
- Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferred qualifications
- CV (including current email address)
- Three to five letters of recommendation (one at least attesting to teaching effectiveness)
- Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree
- Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form, three to five current letters of recommendation (if not already submitted), and an official transcript.
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness (student evaluations)

Applications, required documentation, and/or requests for information should be addressed to:

Kathy Engberg
California State University, Long Beach
School of Nursing
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-0301
(562)985-8241 or
kathleen.engberg@csulb.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Review of applications to begin November 19, 2014
CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, LONG BEACH
College of Health and Human Services
School of Nursing
Tenure-Track Position Opening

RECRUITMENT NUMBER: 2204

POSITION: Assistant Professor of Nursing as Nurse Scientist

EFFECTIVE DATE: August 17, 2015 (Fall Semester)

SALARY RANGE: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: DNP, DNSc, PhD in Nursing or doctorate in medically related sciences, or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2015; Eligible for licensure as a registered nurse in California; demonstrated potential for effective teaching at the university level. Demonstrate potential for successful research, scholarly and creative activities; demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRABLE/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Master’s degree in nursing with advanced practice specialization as a nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist; national certification as appropriate to clinical or functional area; recent work experience in clinical setting (within the past 5 years); strong background in medical sciences and expertise in teaching advanced practice nurses in the areas of pharmacology, advanced physical assessment, and pathophysiology; experience as a nursing educator in didactic or clinical courses in postsecondary nursing programs; ability to teach in more than one clinical area; record of research, publication or other scholarly and/or creative activities; ability to work effectively in a team-teaching, collegial setting; current knowledge of practice issues; previous experience in curriculum development and instructional technology; success in obtaining external funding through grants and contracts.

DUTIES: Teach didactic and clinical courses at the undergraduate, graduate, and/or doctoral level. Participate in curriculum development, course assessment, student recruitment and retention, advise nursing majors; serve as a member of thesis, directed project, and comprehensive exam committees. Serve as a liaison between clinical agency personnel and the School of Nursing. Maintain ongoing program of scholarship leading to publication.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University’s strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION:

- A Student Success Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page)
- Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferred qualifications
- CV (including current email address)
- Three to five letters of recommendation (one at least attesting to teaching effectiveness)
- Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree
- Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form, three to five current letters of recommendation (if not already submitted), and an official transcript.
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness (student evaluations)

Applications, required documentation, and/or requests for information should be addressed to:
Kathy Engberg
California State University, Long Beach
School of Nursing
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-0301
(562) 985-8241 or
kathleen.engberg@csulb.edu
CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, LONG BEACH
College of Health and Human Services
School of Nursing
Tenure-Track Position Opening

RECRUITMENT NUMBER: 2205

POSITION: Assistant Professor of Nursing in Epidemiology/Public Health

EFFECTIVE DATE: August 17, 2015 (Fall Semester)

SALARY RANGE: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: DNP, DNSc, PhD in Nursing, epidemiology/public health or a related field, or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2015; Eligible for licensure as a registered nurse in California; demonstrate potential for effective teaching at the university level. Demonstrate potential for successful research, scholarly and creative activities; demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Master's degree in nursing with advanced practice specialization as a nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist; national certification as appropriate to clinical or functional area; recent work experience in clinical setting (within the past 5 years); strong background in epidemiology, experience as a nursing educator in didactic or clinical courses in postsecondary nursing programs; ability to teach in more than one clinical area; record of research, publication or other scholarly and/or creative activities; ability to work effectively in a team-teaching, collegial setting; current knowledge of practice issues; previous experience in curriculum development and instructional technology; success in obtaining external funding through grants and contracts.

DUTIES: Teach didactic and clinical courses at the undergraduate, graduate, and/or doctoral level. Participate in curriculum development, course assessment, student recruitment and retention, advise nursing majors; serve as a member of the thesis, directed project, and comprehensive exam committees. Serve as a liaison between clinical agency personnel and the School of Nursing. Maintain ongoing program of scholarship leading to publication.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University’s strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION:

- A Student Success Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page)
- Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferred qualifications
- CV (including current email address)
- Three to five letters of recommendation (one at least attesting to teaching effectiveness)
- Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree
- Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form, three to five current letters of recommendation (if not already submitted), and an official transcript.
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness (student evaluations)

Applications, required documentation, and/or requests for information should be addressed to:

Kathy Engberg
California State University, Long Beach
School of Nursing
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-0301
(562)985-8241 or
kathleen.engberg@csulb.edu