Geriatric Social Work Education Consortium

Students’ Guide to GSWEC

for

2nd Year Field Placements in 2015/2016
STUDENTS’ GUIDE TO GSWEC
(Geriatric Social Work Education Consortium)

This Guide to GSWEC is for social work graduate students interested in developing skills in and specializing in services for and with older adults and their families.

GSWEC (Geriatric Social Work Education Consortium) is a collaboration among eight Graduate Schools of Social Work and ten community agencies specializing in services for older adults. It was established in 1999 to provide aging-focused 2nd year field placements and competency-driven geriatric social work field education.

GSWEC field placements are structured to provide students with a well rounded experience of social work with older adults.

The GSWEC consortium includes:
- Eight Southern California Graduate Schools of Social Work
  - Azusa Pacific University
  - California State University, Dominguez Hills
  - California State University, Fullerton
  - California State University, Long Beach
  - California State University, Los Angeles
  - California State University, Northridge
  - University of California, Los Angeles
  - University of Southern California

- Ten Centers of Excellence in Geriatric Social Work Field Education:
  - AltaMed
  - Alzheimer’s Association, California Southland Chapter
  - Beach Cities Health District
  - Huntington Senior Care Network
  - Jewish Family Service
  - Motion Picture and Television Fund
  - Pacific Clinics
  - Partners in Care Foundation
  - Special Service for Groups/SILVER
  - Veterans Administration Health Systems

For additional information, read this GSWEC Student Guide and talk with your Social Work School’s GSWEC Liaison.

Wednesday is a mandatory field day at all GSWEC field placements.
GSWEC FAQs

What advantage is there for me to be in GSWEC?

- GSWEC is well recognized among employers and GSWEC alumni are sought after as employees.
- GSWEC students receive supplemental training in Geriatric Social Work, guided by nationally recognized Geriatric Social Work Competencies developed by GSWEC.
- GSWEC students experience both micro and macro practice.
- GSWEC students gain a broader field experience with Associate Site rotations.
- GSWEC students have opportunity to network with other GSWEC students and alumni.

What field placement settings does GSWEC offer?  GSWEC offers micro, mezzo and macro placement opportunities at its ten Geriatric Centers of Excellence agencies. Placement settings include

- Mental Health
- Health Care and Health Promotion
- Geriatric Care Management
- Adult Day Health Care
- Dementia Care and Caregiver Support
- Substance Abuse Treatment
- Senior Services Administration
- Civic Engagement and Volunteerism

What is GSWEC’s “Competency-Driven Education”?  GSWEC developed “Geriatric Social Work Competencies” as a foundation for geriatric field placement experiences. GSWEC Field Instructor and student use the Competencies to identify the student’s learning goals, and to provide the basis for learning assignments and assessment of the student’s progress. The Competencies emphasize geriatric social work values, knowledge, and skills encompassing micro- to macro-level practice in four general areas:

- Values, Ethics and Theoretical Perspectives
- Assessment
- Intervention
- Aging Services, Programs and Policies

What Are GSWEC’s Geriatric Social Work Seminars?  All GSWEC students participate in 3 free, full day Geriatric Social Work Seminars during the Placement Year. Seminar locations vary and local travel to other sites is required. Seminars typically include presentations by, and discussions with, academic and professional experts, Field Instructors and GSWEC alumni. The Seminars broaden students’ learning and provide exposure to many facets of Geriatric Social Work. Topics vary from year to year, but typically include subjects such as:

- Biopsychosocial Aspects of Aging and Impact on Older Adults and Their Families
- Normal and Abnormal Cognitive Changes in Aging
- Assessment, Diagnosis and Treatment of Older Adult Mental Health Issues
- Cultural and Age Cohort Diversity
- Caregiver Stressors and Supports
- Older Adults and Substance Abuse
- Palliative and End of Life Care
Do GSWEC placements offer stipends? Most GSWEC agencies provide stipends of $4,000. Two agencies (Pacific Clinics and VA Health Systems) provide $5,000 or more. Some agencies withhold for taxes, others do not. Some pay biweekly, some at different intervals. See Field Placement Opportunities in this GSWEC Guide and check with agencies for details regarding stipends.

While it is our goal to have GSWEC students work in geriatric social work after graduation, there currently is no employment obligation incurred. However, GSWEC agencies are always eager to hire GSWEC graduates!

Are GSWEC students eligible for CAL-SWEC II Mental Health stipends?
Yes, if the GSWEC placements meet the criteria for CAL-SWEC II Mental Health stipend. If you receive the CAL-SWEC II Mental Health stipend it will be in lieu of the GSWEC stipend.

How can I apply for GSWEC?
1. Obtain an application from the GSWEC liaison at your campus.
2. Attend the GSWEC Orientation on March 4, 2015 at the time designated by your university at Huntington Hospital to learn more about GSWEC and placement opportunities.
3. Submit the GSWEC Application to your campus GSWEC Liaison by your School’s deadline date.
4. Arrange interviews with GSWEC agencies that interest you.

Can I interview at more than one GSWEC agency/site? Yes, you can – check with your School as to number of interviews allowed. Most GSWEC sites require an interview but some hold an Open House instead. Before you schedule site interviews you should review the GSWEC Guide to get basic information about agencies and sites, and make a preliminary phone call to get more information about placement opportunities. This will help you more effectively focus your placement search.

What does GSWEC look for when selecting Applicants?
- Students who have a respect for older adults
- Students who have a desire to work with and on behalf of the aging population
- Students with leadership qualities

What are Site-Specific Requirements? Specific requirements vary among placement sites, such as fingerprinting, physical exam, specific language fluency or U.S. Citizenship. Many also require an on-site interview. See Field Placement Opportunities in this GSWEC Guide, and check with agency for details.

What should I take with me to the agency interview? You should take a copy of your GSWEC application and your resume. Also remember that a professional appearance will help you present a positive image.

Wednesday is a mandatory field day at all GSWEC field placements

Opportunities:

AltaMed has delivered quality health care services to the underserved communities of Southern California for more than 40 years. AltaMed serves the entire family with primary medical care, dental clinics and complete senior long-term care services, including primary care clinics, senior case management, and the Program of All Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE). AltaMed also delivers disease management programs, health education, youth services, specialty HIV/AIDS care and substance abuse treatment.

This internship will allow Students opportunities to work in one of the our eight PACE programs across Los Angeles county within the PACE program. AltaMed is recognized as one of the nation’s most innovative providers of all-inclusive medical and social services. AltaMed offers a distinct type of senior services to enable seniors to live with dignity in the comfort of their own home while receiving essential health care services- PACE- program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE). Placement with the PACE program will allow students to integrate their classroom education into direct practice through bio-psycho assessments, care plan creation, case management, community based needs and referrals, discharge planning and working in an interdisciplinary team. The Students will also have the opportunity to work with families and caregivers of the patients through participation in family conferences.
Unique Aspects of Placement:
The PACE program model is centered on the belief that it is better for the well-being of seniors with chronic care needs and their families to be served in the community whenever possible. While all PACE participants must be certified to need nursing home care to enroll in PACE, only about 7 percent of PACE participants nationally reside in a nursing home. If a PACE enrollee needs nursing home care, the PACE program pays for it and continues to coordinate the enrollee's care. The services provided for a PACE patient includes:

- Delivering all needed medical and supportive services, a PACE program is able to provide the entire continuum of care and services to seniors with chronic care needs while maintaining their independence in their home for as long as possible. Services include the following:
  - Adult day care that offers nursing; physical, occupational and recreational therapies; meals; nutritional counseling; social work and personal care;
  - Medical care provided by a PACE physician familiar with the history, needs and preferences of each participant;
  - Home health care and personal care;
  - All necessary prescription drugs;
  - Social services;
  - Medical specialties, such as audiology, dentistry, optometry, podiatry and speech therapy;
  - Respite care; and
  - Hospital and nursing home care when necessary.

The Students placed with the AltaMed PACE program will have the unique opportunity to work with frail seniors and be exposed to this vulnerable population’s needs. AltaMed PACE is committed to providing professional development through ongoing trainings on quality improvement initiatives, process improvement, resume building and supervision with experienced Social Workers.

Depending on the project/area that the student selects, he/she will have the opportunity to observe and learn about people experiencing the early stages of Alzheimer’s disease and how they and their loved ones cope with the diagnosis. The student might lead one of our early stage groups, or carry a caseload of clients who are caregivers caring for someone in the middle or late stage of the disease, when behaviors are challenging and extra support is needed. Or, he/she might go into the community to deliver an educational talk about the 10 Warning Signs of Alzheimer’s disease or some other aspect of dementia. If the student is interested in working with diverse communities, we offer opportunities to network with, and deliver services to, the African-American community, the Asian-Pacific Islander community and the Latino Community. If someone is more interested in public policy, visits to legislators to advocate for people affected by Alzheimer’s disease might be part of the day. If the student is interested in more macro projects, he/she might work on program evaluation and outcomes, data collection or service mapping in order to determine how resources should be spent.
Unique Aspects of Placement:

Whether someone is interested in direct practice or macro work, the best part about being at the Alzheimer's Association is the variety of opportunities available to students. In addition to training students to become dementia care experts, we are able to match students' interests to the services we provide, and they actually have a voice in how their placement will unfold. The staff are experienced supervisors who are invested in students and their learning, and we take the time to make the entire experience enjoyable and meaningful. We offer individualized support and guidance, while giving students abundant opportunities for exploration and growth.

Opportunities:

Huntington Senior Care Network (HSCN) is a department of Huntington Memorial Hospital that is committed to providing individuals and families with outpatient services to maximize independence in the community. HSCN strives to provide students with an opportunity to practice on the micro, mezzo and macro level. Placement at HSCN includes the opportunity to integrate classroom learning into direct practice through exposure to the biopsychosocial assessment, intervention and treatment considerations. Students will learn the complexities of working the elderly, frail, and culturally diverse population served by Senior Care Network. Students gain experience in management of mental health, chronic disease, and socialization challenges effecting older adults. Furthermore, there are opportunities to work with families and caregivers to educate and provide interventions to prevent burnout. Lastly, students have the opportunity to develop carefully considered careplans within an interdisciplinary team. Students with mezzo/macro concentrations will have opportunities to gain knowledge in administration of senior services, policy review/development, program review/development and civic engagement.

Unique Aspects of Placement:

HSCN has been a recognized GSWEC placement for fifteen years and has successfully transitioned many interns into full time employment. As such, students are encouraged to seek out former GSWEC interns to provide consultation and assistance with skill development. Students will find HSCN unique in that it is an agency committed to providing services not readily available to surrounding communities. HSCN is committed to providing professional development through ongoing trainings, supervision and community events. HSCN offers evidence based, client centered practices such as motivational interviewing and strengths based perspective counseling. HSCN also offers an associate rotation into the hospital setting for students to engage with a multidisciplinary team and provide bedside services for patients.

Opportunities:

Opportunities include working in a fast-paced environment with other social workers in both the community and in hospital settings. Students will have the ability to receive training in the Coleman Model, an evidence-based practice aimed at reducing hospital readmissions for the most vulnerable clients. There will be ongoing support and training around rapport building with clients, as well as crisis intervention, and information and referrals. Clients are involved with the program on a short-term basis, so there will be an opportunity to learn how to build trust quickly. There is also the opportunity for ongoing learning and sharing, as this program meets weekly to share cases, struggles, and positive experiences.

Unique Aspects of Placement:

As part of the Affordable Care Act, the Care Transition Program uses evidence-based practice to reduce hospital readmissions for high-risk vulnerable Medicare patients. We are partnered with four hospitals and see clients both in the hospitals and in their homes upon discharge. The Care Transition Program uses The Coleman Model to help social workers or “coaches” develop rapport with clients and enable them to advocate for themselves with regard to their medical care. Clients are often immigrants with English as second language, so having another language is a plus. We are very excited about the growth of this program, as we are seeing the readmission rates drop as a result of our coaches interventions.

Students placed in JFS’s Field Capable Clinical Services (FCCS) Program will have the opportunity to engage in therapy with individuals age 55 and up. Clients in the FCCS program have moderate to more significant mental health issues, and so students will have the opportunity to engage in longer-term therapy. The majority of services are provided in the field, whether in the client’s home, at a senior center, or other location convenient for the client. Students will diagnose clients according to DSM criteria, learn Department of Mental Health (DMH) processes and paperwork, and receive both individual and group supervision weekly. Services that students will be trained in and provide to clients include mental health assessment, therapy, case management, and chart documentation.

Unique Aspects of Placement:

The Field Capable Clinical Services program is funded through contracts with Department of Mental Health and learning the Department of Mental Health’s processes and paperwork is a unique learning opportunity.

An intern at JFSLA/Valley Storefront will have the opportunity to be supervised and mentored by professionals in the field who work on a daily basis with older adults and who serve the local community of seniors and their families. The work setting can be in an office or will often be in the field making home visits to clients. Group work, program development and community outreach might also be part of the interns learning opportunities. Interns will have the opportunity to work with seniors 55+ who might be Holocaust Survivors and their families and/or work with caregivers of those with memory impairment or chronic health issues.

Unique Aspects of Placement:
JFSLA is funded through contracts with City and County Departments of Aging as well as the Claims Conference addressing the needs of Holocaust Survivors. Service provision follows the guidelines of these funders as well as community need. The balancing of these mandates is a unique and wonderful learning opportunity.

x Ethnic/Special Groups: Individuals who have worked in the entertainment industry (Film & TV)

Opportunities:

The student would have the opportunity to intern with MPTF’s Elder Connection Program, which provides services to entertainment industry professionals 65-years of age and older in the community. The program can assist the “industry member”, their families and/or caregivers as they face a myriad of issues related to aging. He or she would have the opportunity to experience the unique complexities of the entertainment industry, while developing their own practice skills with an aging population. Many of our clients receive comprehensive case management, including care coordination, linkages to appropriate resources and referrals, and the provision of supportive counseling. The intern will learn how to conduct biopsychosocial assessments, clinical geriatric assessments (e.g., Geriatric Depression scale, Mini Mental Status Exam, etc.) and develop/implement case plans with clients, families, caregivers and other professionals. The Elder Connection Program works with various modalities, including individuals, couples and families. Services provided may include comprehensive case management, crisis intervention, supportive counseling, financial assistance and educating clients around both the aging process and end of life issues. The Intern will experience working with clients in home settings, assisted living facilities, hospitals and rehabilitation facilities. Interns would also have the possibility of co-facilitating various groups that MPTF offers including grief/bereavement groups and other evidenced based groups. Although the primary focus of practice is micro, the intern will have the opportunity to gain a greater understanding of the micro/mezzo/macro interplay in the field of aging, particularly as this relates to the clients MPTF serves.
For students who are interested in experiencing social work with a medical model emphasis, there is the possibility of integrating a one day a week rotation at our Wasserman campus location, located in Woodland Hills. Students who choose this internship option would have the additional opportunity to have a portion of their internship on the retirement campus with a dynamic team of social workers. This additional internship option provides students with learning experiences through collaboration within a multidisciplinary team (i.e., physician, nursing staff, activities, and chaplaincy). The intern would have the opportunity to work in various modalities including: individuals, couples and families. The internship would include a rotation through the various levels of care (i.e., RCFE, Long-Term Care, Secured Dementia Unit, etc.) allowing the student to gather a deeper understanding of options and issues that arise in community care facilities.

Unique Aspects of Placement:

MPTF’s Elder Connection program is a trusted resource for entertainment industry members and their parents who face challenges living on their own, or may have had a sudden life event that requires an urgent intervention. MPTF’s retirement community has, for generations, been at the center of MPTF’s legacy to countless people in the entertainment industry who seek a warm, inviting, supportive place to spend their retirement years. MPTF is non-profit organization that provides a full continuum of services for older adults on its 44-acre community located in the west San Fernando Valley. Services include a Residential Care Facility for the elderly (RCFE), which focuses on independent and assisted living; a 40-bed Long Term Care community for residents who need 24 hour care and 30-bed unit for residents with Alzheimer’s and other forms of dementia.

The mission of the Elder Connection Program is to provide exemplary psychosocial interventions to entertainment industry individuals, families and our communities; to prevent and alleviate suffering and to maximize quality of life. Our social work practice is guided by core values of holistic care, justice, self-determination and advocacy for industry members, their parents and caregivers through continuously evolving programs and services designed to meet their health and human service needs.

Opportunity to work as part of a multidisciplinary team in a cutting edge PEI/FSP/FCCS program. Individual, family and group therapy, case management, individual and community outreach. Learn the DMH documentation requirements and standards. Students also have an opportunity to do a macro project. Some projects which former students have done were: compiling resources for the Asian older adults, community resource fair for the older adults, educational workshop at a local community center, organizing an activity event for the older adults. Participate in intern trainings and group supervision with Pacific Clinics Institute on a variety of topics specific for mental health settings.

Unique Aspects of Placement:
NOW (Nuturing Older Adult Wellness) uses a multidisciplinary team approach (doctor, nurse, case manager, therapist, and service extenders) to serve the older adults; a field based program which works with the older adults and their family members/caregivers, with an emphasis on treatment, prevention and early intervention. It is an integrated approach on health, mental health and substance abuse. We emphasize the provision of culturally and linguistically competent mental health services to the Asian older adults, their family members and/or caregivers.

Shared/GSWEC/GSWEC Site Description 1/22/13
The Community-based Care Transitions Program (CCTP) at Partners in Care Foundation is a unique 2-year demonstration project, funded through the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services’ Innovation Center. This program, one of over 100 demonstration sites nationwide, utilizes the evidence-based Care Transitions Intervention (CTI), developed by Dr. Eric Coleman, for improving care transitions from the hospital to other settings and reducing readmissions to the hospital for Medicare fee-for-service beneficiaries.

Partners in Care currently has three regional collaboratives with hospitals to provide care transitions coaching to eligible patients. Two of the three collaboratives will be eligible for intern participation; Westside (Ronald Reagan UCLA Medical Center, UCLA Santa Monica Medical Center, St. John’s Hospital) and Glendale (Glendale Memorial Hospital and Health Center, Glendale Adventist Medical Center, USC-Verdugo Hills Hospital). The intern will have the opportunity to shadow home visits with field coaches as part of their training, then participate in field transitions coaching, in which the intern would conduct a home visit to the patient post-hospital discharge utilizing the CTI and a personal health record (PHR), and conduct the resulting 30-day intervention afterwards (including follow-up phone calls and surveys). It is emphasized that this is a “coaching” model, not a case management model, in which the intern coaches the patient on following up with the primary care provider, documenting and understanding prescribed medications and connecting one’s self to services, as well as providing referrals to such. Caregivers and family members are significant participants in this intervention. In the field visit, the intern will also utilize the HomeMeds evidence-based intervention.

The intern will have the opportunity to shadow the lead (hospital) transitions coaches and observe that portion of the intervention, as well as coaches that provide the alternative, telephonic Illinois Transitional Care Consortium Bridge Model.

The intern will complete a GSWEC Culmination/Macro project, in which the intern may propose a new program to be developed for the department, a marketing plan/educational presentation for the program for local home health agencies, or a policy initiative to further enhance readmission reductions, as examples. The interns will be tasked with updating our current collection of community resources and given other micro/mezzo/macro projects as assigned.

Unique Aspects of Placement:

The CCTP program is part of a nationwide demonstration project that came into being as part of the Affordable Care Act. It is a newer approach to reducing readmissions to hospitals for Medicare fee-for-service beneficiaries, and provides opportunities for interns to gain direct service practice through conducting the intervention with the individual patient, the patient and family or the patient and caregiver. Though not a psychotherapy or a traditional case management model, it is one in which the intern can gain tremendous experience in working with older adults, caregivers, and family systems. This internship is entirely field-based, and a unique software program designed for the CCTP is utilized.
