Welcome to our 2015 Legacy Concert!

In 1959, a young Frank Pooler founded the choral program at CSULB and became its first Director of Choral Studies. Through the dedication, hard work and passion of Frank Pooler, Greg Lyne, Lynn Bielefelt, Leland Vail, and Jonathan Talberg, the program has grown and blossomed over the last 56 years to become one of the finest in the nation. Our alumni hold positions as professional opera singers, Broadway performers, popular artists, and as directors of their own choral programs at all educational levels. They have also founded their own choral organizations and made careers in music administration fields.

With so many incredible alumni, and this being Jonathan Talberg’s 15th year as Director of Choral, Vocal and Opera Studies, we thought it would be appropriate to ask our graduates for their most inspiring, influential, and favorite pieces from their choral days at CSULB. Using social media, we polled as many alumni as possible. The repertoire you will hear this evening was chosen from the numerous responses we received. We would like to extend our sincere appreciation and gratitude to all of the conductors who have made the CSULB choral program what it is today and thank all of our alumni, especially those who participated in the survey, for their time and contributions to this concert. We look forward to seeing all of you after the concert and hearing more about your success stories.

PROGRAM NOTES

Rytmus by Slovak composer, Ivan Hrušovský, is a choral exercise in rhythm. The lines move quickly and the words dance in a variety of ways in order to keep both the listener and the choir engaged. Like his other compositions after 1970, Hrušovský bridges the gap between new and old classical music. The resulting harmony is tonal, with a hint of modal textures. The quickly moving phrases in combination with the poly-modal 20th century harmonies create a jolting and energizing experience for the listener.

Trois Chansons Bretonnes are a set of three choral pieces by the Dutch composer Henk Badings set to poetry by Théodore Botrel. While all three movements are part of the same cycle, each work is thematically independent from the others and tells its own story.

“La nuit en mer” enters the mind and heart of fishermen marveling at the ocean on a quiet night. The choir moves gently along the waves of the piano accompaniment like an evening in a fishing boat on the calm sea. As the fisherman go to sleep, they imagine the beauty of the sea, and how eager they are to sail in the morning with the rising sun.

“La complainte des âmes” is both a lament and a prayer. The unaccompanied voices, in what can almost be considered a chant, pray to the Virgin Mary, expressing the bitter pains of souls lost to the fires of Purgatory. With eerie harmonies, they pray for the souls of the mothers and fathers whose children will not pray for them.

“Soir d'été” begins, like “La nuit en mer,” at the end of the day. Two lovers rush home before dark, but not before taking in the sights, sounds, and smells of the sensuous world around them. The light-hearted music accompanies the gaiety of the couple's hearts. Then quickly, before they lose themselves to much in the timelessness of love, they hurry home on a warm summer night.

Frogs is a choral song cycle by Norman Dinerstein set to Japanese haiku. Dinerstein composed the work for his colleague, Dr. Elmer Thomas, the late Director of Choral Studies and Professor Emeritus at the College-Conservatory of Music at the University of Cincinnati. Dinerstein’s use of word painting brings the short and simple haikus to life with vivid imagery.

“’Day darken!’ frogs say” begins with the ribbits of frogs beckoning the falling of night. Just as darkness falls, the frogs suddenly become lively. Their voices soar over one another as they stubbornly cry out for the light to return, creating a brilliant soundscape in the night.

In “An old silent pond...” the choir’s pure homophonic singing creates an atmosphere of absolute stillness, when suddenly the mood changes with the arrival of a frog. As the frog jumps, so do the voices. They jubilantly leap over one another until they splash into the pond. The ripples in the water are reflected by the choir’s repetition of “sh” and the listener is left with a silent, calm pond once again.

Kde Sú Krávy Moje by Hans Schimmerling is a lively choral paraphrase of a Slovak Folk-tune. A young cowherd is waking from a nap. As she awakes, she realizes, much to her despair, that her eight cows have wandered off. She cries out, “Where are my cows?!” and searches tirelessly in order to find them, calling them each by name. In Schimmerling’s arrangement, the listener experiences desperation, grief, and frustration from the playful and high-spirited personality of the young cowherd.

—University Choir notes by Vasken Ohanian
The Glory of the Father  Frank Pooler (1926-2013), former Director of Choral Studies at CSULB, discovered Norwegian composer Egil Hovland and championed his choral music in the United States. It was tradition to end each concert with a performance of Hovland’s The Glory of the Father, which easily explains the number of requests for this piece to appear on the Legacy concert program. Written in a style reminiscent of Gregorian chant, The Glory of the Father is a prayer adapted from John I that contemplates “the glory of the father, full of grace and truth.”

Leonardo Dreams of his Flying Machine  Driven by the question, “what would it sound like if Leonardo Da Vinci were dreaming? And more especially, what kind of music would fill the mind of such a genius?” Eric Whitacre and poet Charles Anthony Silvestri collaborated closely to create Leonardo Dreams of his Flying Machine. Silvestri pulled fragments from da Vinci’s own notebooks to create a three-part libretto brève that describes Leonardo’s desire to fly, his efforts to build an engine that can fly, and finally the moment when he leaps and takes flight in his dream. Using extensive word painting, shifts in tempo, and non-traditional choral sounds like church bells and the whooshing of wind, Whitacre takes the audience on a musical journey through Leonardo’s dream.

Agnus Dei  Samuel Barber’s Agnus Dei is a choral arrangement of his popular string work, Adagio for Strings (1936). Originally intended as the second movement of his String Quartet, Op. 11, Barber arranged the work for string orchestra at Arturo Toscanini’s request in 1938. Adagio for Strings met with such popular success that in 1967 Barber arranged the work for mixed chorus using the liturgical text Agnus Dei. Marked molto adagio and molto expressivo, Agnus Dei is a lush, lyrical choral prayer with long, suspended lines that perfectly encapsulate the spirituality of the piece.

And So I Go On  Chamber Choir is thrilled to premiere Jake Runestad’s composition And So I Go On. Dedicated to the memory of Germán Aguilar, this double-choir setting of Todd Boss’s parallel poem is distinctive in that each choir represents one side of the poem—the loved one who is lost, and the loved one who must continue living. In a layered conversation, the two choirs contemplate life, loss, and enduring love.

“When asked about the inspiration for this piece, Runestad responded: “When Germán Aguilar passed away unexpectedly last summer, it was a huge loss to our world. Germán had a warm, kind personality and a love for life, teaching, and the people around him—especially his fiancé Jon Talberg. After Germán’s death, Jon was cleaning out Germán’s wallet and found the only card inside was mine. I had given it to Germán when we met in January of 2014. Jon soon contacted me and asked if I would write a piece of music in memory of Germán—I was honored to do so.

When we lose someone close to us, we want to honor his or her life with a tribute or memorial. In this case, I want this music to be a tribute to Germán’s life as an amazing man and lover of music. Also, I hope the music will serve as a form of healing to those who experience it and who continue to suffer from this immense loss. Todd Boss, the amazing poet who wrote an original text for this work, beautifully captured the message we want to leave with you: ‘And so I go on, always, wherever you are, my lovely one.’ ”

—Jake Runestad, composer

Schaffe in mir Gott  Brahms’s motet Schaffe in mir Gott was composed early in his life while he was studying seventeenth- and eighteenth-century counterpoint. The motet is divided into four distinct sections based on the text—a homophonic chorale where the choir asks for a pure heart; a highly contrapuntal fugue in which the choir pleads not to be cast out of God’s presence; a waltz-like dance asking for support; and finally an joyful celebration of the Holy Spirit.

Trois Chansons Bretonnes

_I. La nuit en mer_

*La brise enfle notre viole;*_

*Voici la première étoile qui luit!*_

Sur le flot qui nous balance,

Amis, voguons en silence dans la nuit.

*Tous bruits viennent de se taire;*_

On diraie que tout,

*sur terre, est mort:_

Les humains cumme les choses,

*Les oiseaux comme les roses._

*Tout s'endort!*_

Mais la Mer c'est la Vivante,

C'est l'Immensité mouvante toujours,

Prenant d'assaut les jetées,

*Dédaigneuse des nuitées et des jours!*_

*Hormis Elle, rien n'existe*_

*Que la grand Phare*_

*et son Triste reflet;*_

A à la place la meilleure,

*Mes amis, jetons, sur l'heure, le filet!*_

*Puis, enroulés dans nos violes*_

*Le front nu sous les étoiles, dormons!*_

Rêvons en la Paix profunde,

*A tous ceux, qu'en ce bas-monde nous aimons!*_

*Dormons sur nos goëlettes*_

*comme en nos bercelonnettes d'enfants...*_

Et demain, à marée haute,

*Nous rallierons à la Côte, triomphants!*_

---

II. La complainte des âmes

_Vierge Marie, ô bonne Mère*_

 Ô bonne Mère de Jésus!*_

*C'est ici la complainte amère*_

*Que chantent ceux qui ne sont plus!*_

_Nous venons en ce soir d'Automne,*

_Frapper aux portes des Amis;*_

*C'est Jésus-Christ qui nous ordonne*_

_De réveiller les endormis!*_

_Vous, qui dormez dans la nuit noire,*

_Ah! songez vois de temps en temps,*

_Qui'au feu flambant du Purgatoire*_

_Sont, peut-être, tous vos parents?*_

Ils sont là vos pères, vos mères,

_Feu par-dessus, feu par-dessus,*

---

Hail Eve,

_fount of love,*

_you queen of nobleness._

---

The gentle breeze swells our sail;

*Here is the first star to shine!*_

Upon the waters that rock us,

Friends, let us sail silently into the night.

*Every sound has begun to fall silent;*_

*You would think that*_

*aeverything upon earth is dead—*_

People as well as things,

Birds as well as roses.

*Everything is falling asleep!*_

But the Sea, it is the Living Entity,

Immensity in motion always,

Taking jetties by storm,

*Contemptuous of both night and day!*_

*Apart from it, nothing exists*_

*Except the great Lighthouse*_

and its sad reflection.

*My friends, let us cast our nets without delay*_

*where the fishing is best!*_

*Then, swathed in our sails*_

*And with faces naked to the stars let us sleep!*_

*Let us dream in utter peace*_

*About all those we love here below!*_

*Let us sleep on our schooners*_

as if in our children's hammocks.

And tomorrow at high tide,

*we will assemble at the coast, triumphant!*_

Virgin Mary, O good Mother,

*O good Mother of Jesus!*_

*This is the bitter lament*_

*Sung by those who are no more!*_

*We come this Autumn evening*_

*To knock at the doors of our Friends;*_

*It is Jesus Christ who commands us*_

*To awaken those who sleep!*_

You, who sleep in the black night,

*Alas! Do you ever consider*_

*That all of your relatives might be*_

*In the raging fires of Purgatory?*_

They are there,—your fathers, your mothers,

Flames above, flames beneath—
Espérant, en vain, les prières
Qui'ils ont droit d'espérer de vous!
Songez-vous qu'ils disent peut-être
A tous les Chrétiens d'ici-bas:
Priez pour nous sans nous connaître,
Puisque nos gâs ne le font pas!

Dans le Purgatoire on nous laisse,
Priez pour ceux qui ne prient pas!
Priez pour nous! Priez sans cesse
Puisque nos gâs sont des ingrats!

III. Soir d'été
Lison ma câline, quittons la colline,
Car le jour décline au rouge horizon.
Avant qu'il ne meure, Profitons de l'heure:
À notre demeure viens t'en ma Lison!

Dans la paix immense du soir qui commence
Monte la romance des petits grillons
Et la plaine rase que Phébus embrase
Savourez l'extase des derniers rayons.

Des voix enjôleuses sortent des yeuses:
Ce sont des berceuses, des petits oiseaux.
Et sa porte close, la fermière Rose Chante même chose entre deux berceaux!

C'est l'heure très pure où dans la ramure
Passe le murmure du grand vent calmé.
C'est l'heure langoureuse, l'heure où l'amoureuse
Se suspend heureuse au bras de l'Aimé;

C'est l'heure touchante où tous nos enchantes,
Où la cloche chante l'Angélus au loin.
Et c'est l'heure grisé où la douce brise
S'imprègne et se grise de l'odeur du foin;

C'est l'heure où tout aime, où, las du blasphème
Le méchant, lui même, est un peu meilleur.
Le coeur se dépouille de tout qui souille.
L'âme s'agenouille devant le Seigneur!

Lison ma petite, prions le bien vite,
Pour qu'on ne se quitte de l'Éternité,
Et qu'il nous convie à fuir cette vie
À l'heure ravie d'un beau soir d'été.

Leonardo Dreams of his Flying Machine

Leonardo Dreams of his Flying Machine...
Tormented by visions of flight and falling,
More wondrous and terrible each than the last,
Master Leonardo imagines an engine
To carry a man up into the sun...

And as he’s dreaming the heavens call him,
softly whispering their siren-song:

L’uomo colle sua congiegniate e grandi ale,
facendo forza contro alla resistente aria.
[A man with wings large enough and duly connected might learn to overcome the resistance of the air.]

Leonardo Dreams of his Flying Machine...
As the candles burn low he paces and writes,
Releasing purchased pigeons one by one
Into the golden Tuscan sunrise...

And as he dreams, again the calling,
The very air itself gives voice:

Vicina all’elemento del fuoco... [Close to the sphere of elemental fire...]
Scratching quill on crumpled paper,
Rete, canna, filo, carta. [Net, cane, thread, paper.]
Images of wing and frame and fabric fastened tightly.
...sulla suprema sottile aria. [...in the highest and rarest atmosphere.]

Master Leonardo Da Vinci Dreams of his Flying Machine...
As the midnight watchtower tolls,
Over rooftop, street and dome,
The triumph of a human being ascending
In the dreaming of a mortal man.

Leonardo steels himself,
takes one last breath,
and leaps...

—text Charles Anthony Silvestri (b.1965)

Todd Boss

My lovely one though you are gone
taken from me
I cannot leave you
I am not free
I burn in snow
and thirst in rain
there is no sea
that can drown my pain
but you would want me to live
and love again
and so I go on always wherever you are lovely one living
your dreams

My lovely one
I am gone taken from you mine in your suffering
mine in your joy
my snow will kiss you pouring down my love
there is no sea
that can drown your pain
I want you to live
and love again
and so I go on always wherever you are lovely one
living
your dreams

Schaffe in mir, Gott, ein rein Herz

Create in me, O God, a Pure Heart

Schaffe in mir, Gott, ein rein Herz,
und gib mir einen neuen gewissen Geist.

Create in me, O God, a pure heart,
and grant me a new, confident spirit.

Verwirf mich nicht von deinem Angesicht,
und nimm deinen heiligen Geist nicht von mir.

Cast me not from your presence,
and take not your Holy Spirit from me.

Tröste mich wieder mit deiner Hilfe,
Und der freudige Geist, erhalte mich

May I be consoled again with your support, and may the joyful spirit uphold me.
