Introduction

The mission of the Department of Kinesiology is to facilitate wellness among individuals through the study and application of human movement principles across the lifespan and through the management of and participation in physical activity, exercise, and sport. The Department serves the needs of students completing majors in other fields who find that certain aspects of kinesiology are important to professional objectives and personal interests.

Athletic training is practiced by athletic trainers, health care professionals who collaborate with physicians to optimize activity and participation of patients and clients. Athletic training encompasses the prevention, diagnosis, and intervention of emergency, acute, and chronic medical conditions involving impairment, functional limitations, and disabilities. Students who want to become certified athletic trainers must earn a degree from an accredited athletic training curriculum. For additional information please refer to the following website: <http://www.nata.org/athletic-training>

The ATEP is designed for formal instruction in areas such as injury/illness prevention, first aid and emergency care, assessment of injury/illness, human anatomy and physiology, therapeutic intervention, and nutrition. Classroom learning is enhanced through clinical education experiences. Upon successful completion of all the ATEP requirements and Program Director approval, students are eligible to take the Board of Certification (BOC) examination to become a certified athletic trainer (ATC). Entry level careers in athletic training include professional sports, colleges & universities, secondary schools, and emerging settings such as hospital & clinical, industrial/occupational, military, performing arts, physician extender, and public safety.

Admission Under Impaction

The Bachelor of Science in Athletic Training is an impacted major and requires a supplemental program application in addition to the CSULB admission application. Admission to CSULB does not guarantee admission into the Athletic Training major.
