SUBJECT: Call for Proposals for Ethics Across the Curriculum

You are invited to submit proposals for a pedagogical research stipend in the amount of $2,000 (less payroll taxes and other payroll deductions) to support the development of an ethics teaching module (resulting in approximately a 3-hour package of course materials) in the course(s) that you teach.

These pedagogical research stipends are in support of the infusion of ethics across the curriculum. To be inclusive, priority will be given to new applicants and to modules for courses in the college core curricula or courses that are mandatory for a particular major. Grant recipients will be honored at a luncheon in the spring.

The Ethics Across the Curriculum initiative of the Ukleja Center for Ethical Leadership seeks to support the infusion of ethics and ethical leadership in undergraduate and graduate courses across the CSULB campus. The long-term goal of this initiative is to develop case studies and teaching materials on various applied ethical issues (e.g., bioethics, product safety, integrity in politics, and work-life balance). Samples can be viewed on the Ukleja Center’s web site (www.ucel.org). Click on the Education link under Three Pillars and scroll down to Ethics Across the Curriculum.

Proposals using the enclosed format are to be submitted to Dr. Kathleen Lacey via e-mail (kathleen.lacey@csulb.edu) or campus mail (CBA-418) by Friday, November 9, 2012. Proposals will be evaluated, using the University’s SCAC criteria to the fullest extent applicable, by a review committee consisting of Dr. Lacey and representatives from the other CSULB colleges. Past stipend recipients are ineligible for future awards. If you have questions about this program, please contact Dr. Lacey at kathleen.lacey@csulb.edu or ext. 5-5668.
