The CLTA Newsletter is published in September, December and March and mailed to all active members of the CLTA. Cut-off dates for submission of all materials are August 15, November 15, and February 15. Ad rates are $200 full-page (6Wx8H), $100 half-page (6Wx4H) and $50 quarter-page (3Wx4H).
在此辞旧迎新之际，我谨向全体CLTA会员致以节日的问候。

对中文教师学会(CLTA)来说，2005年是一个有着特殊意义的一年，也是中文教学(Chinese as a Foreign Language)领域发展关键的一年。这一年，我们外语教学同仁将在美国展开“外语之年”(the Year of Languages)的庆祝活动。中文教学界当借此东风，吸引更多的人学习中文，了解中国文化。同时推动更多的人参与中文教学，投身于中文教学(CFL)的学科建设及理论研究。

2005年也将是AP中文项目在美国全面开展的第一年。很多学者预测，AP中文的发展将对美国的中文教学领域有着不可估量的影响。这是因为：首先，AP中文将成为整合全美大、中、小学中文课程的枢纽纽带；其次，AP中文将成为联合各层次中文教学组织的桥梁，促进全美中文教学的交流与合作；再次，AP中文将为中文教学领域提供多种研究素材，成为中文教学理论及实验研究的基地。

2005年还将见证中文教学领域已进入一个新的发展阶段。在过去的十年中，中文学生的注册率有了大幅增长，中文教师队伍不断扩大，各种中文教学资料层出不穷，地方性及专门性中文教学组织大量发展，中文教学理论及实验研究亦逐步成熟。这些发展及变化证实中文教学领域经过几十年的奋斗，已经从一个边缘外语学科进入主流学科。中文在全球正在成为一个令人瞩目的强势外语。

作为一个独立的外语学科，中文教学(CFL)一方面在逐步成熟、发展；另一方面，也将面临诸多新的挑战。中文教师协会是一个具有40年历史的中文教学组织，在新的挑战面前应起到学科的带头作用，确立CFL学科意识，有目标，有系统地进行CFL理论及实验研究。为促进这一目标，本届理事会决议拟定在2005-2006期间开始编纂第一套CFL实验研究专辑。专辑文章将采用公开征稿，专家评审的方式进行。此项工作由本届副会长蒋勉华老师负责。此外，CLTA在第一届实验研究工作坊的基础上，将在2005年会期间向全体会员提供第二届实验研究工作坊，此项工作将由皆得学术研究基金负责人崔颂仁教授安排，具体专题将在下期会员通讯通知。

1. 确立CLTA的学科研究目标。理事会将从明年开始讨论CLTA的学科发展方向，建立相对统一的CFL学科意识，有目标，有系统地进行CFL理论及实验研究。为促进这一目标，本届理事会决议拟定在2005-2006期间开始编纂第一套CFL实验研究专辑。专辑文章将采用公开征稿，专家评审的方式进行。此项工作由本届副会长蒋勉华老师负责。此外，CLTA在第一届实验研究工作坊的基础上，将在2005年会期间向全体会员提供第二届实验研究工作坊，此项工作将由皆得学术研究基金负责人崔颂仁教授安排，具体专题将在下期会员通讯通知。

2. 积极配合AP中文的发展，开展与之相关的课题讨论及研讨会。在2005年期间，围绕AP中文，本会鼓励会员及语言中心在网上或在各地组织专题性研讨会，邀请专家学者为本会通讯及杂志组稿或投稿，系统介绍AP中文的设计理论及对中文教学领域提出的新挑战。

3. 继续加强与其它中文教学组织及外语学科的联系，交流与合作。具体做法包括：(1) 为加强学会与其它外语教学组织的联系，今年理事会决定任命周淑涵为四年一任的CLTA学会代表参加全美外语教师协会(INCL)在华盛顿举办的年会，以为学会争取应得利益及支持；(2) 为继续加强CLTA与其它中文教学组织的联盟及合作，本届理事会决定在没有CLASS理事成员的情况下，将邀请CLASS派代表列席参加CLTA理事会的例行讨论及例会。

4. 大力发展中文教师学会的会员。除了进行例行的会员发展活动外，本会也要通过不同的电子通讯方式联络更多的中文教学机构及教学人员加入本会。

5. 配合ACTFL的倡议，在中文教学领域展开2005年的“外语之年”活动。本会决定将明年CLTA年会的主题定为“中文教学领域的新挑战及新起点”(Taking TCFL to a New Level: Challenges and Prospects)。除了现有的专题研究报告外，本年会负责人齐德立教授正与ACTFL协商，增设中文教学研究展示组 (poster sessions)，欢迎会员踊跃参加与同仁分享教学及研究成果。

6. 积极开展各种募款活动，吸引各方资金支持学会活动，保持并建立专项研究基金及奖励项目。

最后，在新的一年里，我们将尽全力为学会及全体会员服务。再次感谢大家的信任与支持。祝大家节日愉快，来年诸事如意！

靳洪刚
Season’s Greetings to all CLTA members. As 2005 is fast approaching, we know that it will be an exciting and significant year for CLTA as well as the field of Chinese as a foreign language (CFL). ACTFL (American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages) has designated 2005 as The Year of Languages to celebrate and communicate the power of language learning. Our Association will work in concert with ACTFL to promote and celebrate the learning of Chinese language and culture, and at the same time, attract more professionals engaging in CFL teaching and research.

The year 2005 will mark the first stage in the development of AP Chinese programs in the USA. Many scholars expect AP Chinese to make a profound impact on the CFL field. Not only will AP Chinese serve to bridge the curricular and instructional gap between K-12 and post-secondary schools, it will also help bring together Chinese teaching organizations representing both academic and heritage sectors. In addition, AP Chinese will form an important base for more serious and rigorous theoretical and empirical research in CFL.

The year 2005 may also mark a significant step in our field’s progress from the margins to the mainstream. In the past ten years, the field has seen a significant growth in enrollments, an increasing number of new and exciting Chinese programs and expansion of existing programs at all levels. The field has also produced an unprecedented number of high quality teaching materials and incorporated the most advanced technology into our daily teaching. At the same time, many in-depth and systematic theoretical and empirical studies of CFL are emerging. As CFL merges into the mainstream and becomes more mature, it faces new challenges and new responsibilities in taking leadership among less commonly taught languages.

At this important juncture, CLTA with its history of over forty years must take the lead in better understanding the field of teaching CFL and in advancing it to a new professional level. As the in-coming CLTA president, I look forward to continuing the traditions and constructive contributions established by the Immediate Past President Bai Jianhua and many other previous CLTA presidents. I will also work closely with the elected Board of Directors as well as the appointed officers. In the next year, we hope to achieve the following objectives:

1. Systematically identifying needs for CFL research and practice. Throughout the coming year, the Board will engage in on-line discussions on needs, building strategies, and research agendas for the field of CFL. At its November meeting this year, the Board voted to undertake two specific projects in connection with the Jiede Grant: to publish a monograph dedicated to empirical studies in CFL, and to conduct another workshop on empirical research. Vice President Mienehwa Chiang will chair the Monograph Committee, which will seek a publisher, issue a call for papers, and evaluate them for publication. Songren Cui, as Chair of the Jiede Committee, will offer the workshop at next year’s CLTA annual conference in Baltimore. The theme of the workshop will be announced in the next issue of the CLTA newsletter.

2. Actively supporting the development of AP Chinese. During 2005, the Board will work closely with the AP Chinese task force appointed by the College Board. We hope to initiate various on-line-discussions on issues related to AP Chinese tests and curricular requirements, to invite AP specialists and AP task force members to give lectures and contribute articles to CLTA newsletters and journals, in order to inform CLTA members of developments in AP Chinese and their potential impact on our future teaching.

3. Further strengthening communication and collaboration with other language teaching organizations in the USA and in the world. The CLTA Board of Directors will continue to participate in organizations such as ACTFL, AAS (Association of Asian Studies), JNCL-NCLIS (Joint National Committee for Languages-National Council for Languages & International Studies), and NCOLOCTL (National Council of Organizations of Less Commonly Taught Languages). At the same time, CLTA will continue its close alliance with such CFL organizations as CLASS (Chinese Language Association of Secondary-Elementary Schools), CSAUS (Chinese School Association in the United States) and NCACLS (National Council of Associations of Chinese Language Schools). This year, since no member of CLASS was elected to the Board, the Board voted to strengthen our longstanding association by inviting a representative from CLASS to participate as a nonvoting member in our routine discussions and meetings. The Board also voted to appoint Shuhan Wong to a four-year term to represent CLTA at JNCL.

4. Planning for a vigorous membership drive. In addition to our regular annual membership drive, we hope to use different electronic and other devices to reach out and to attract more CFL professionals to join CLTA.

5. Celebrating The Year of Languages. In conjunction with ACTFL’s celebration of The Year of Languages, CLTA has adopted a theme for next year’s conference: “Taking TCFL to a New Level: Challenges and Prospects”. Next year’s Program Chair, Professor Richard Chi, is working closely with ACTFL on the addition of poster sessions. A Call for Proposals appears in this issue of the Newsletter.

6. Organizing fund raising campaigns. In 2005, we hope to approach different organizations and business groups to raise funds for long term CLTA endowments in support of continuing awards and research scholarships.

I will conclude with my sincere hopes that through my hard-work and the collective efforts and wisdom of the Board, CLTA will better serve its members and its field. If you have any questions and suggestions during the year, please feel free to contact me or any of the board members and officers.

Once again I thank you for your trust and support. Best wishes to you all for a fruitful and peaceful year!

Hong Gang Jin
From the CLTA Immediate Past President

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to serve you. It has been a busy and rewarding year. At the conclusion of my term as President I want thank the Board of Directors, the CLTA officers for their hard work on behalf of our organization. Our Association enters 2005 with the exceptionally able leadership of President Hong Gang Jin (Hamilton College) and Vice President Mien-hwa Chiang (University of Pennsylvania) and a very dedicated Board of Directors.

It is gratifying to share with you some of the exciting events that have happened during the last year. First, we have just had another well attended conference in Chicago. Professor Hong Gang Jin and the Conference Program Committee did a superb job and put together a high-quality program. The number of paper proposals increased by 20% in comparison to last year. Secondly, the Jiede Committee chaired by Board Member Mien-hwa Chiang worked hard and inaugurated our first CLTA workshop for members who want to conduct empirical research. The workshop was conducted by Board Member Michael Everson who has done extensive empirical research on CFL and other L2 acquisition issues. Thirdly, we continue to reach out and work with other professional organizations such as CLASS, JNCL, NCOLCTL and AAS to promote the teaching, learning and research and the building of our field. Board Member Gloria Bien organized and will chair an AAS panel on Cinema in the Chinese Language Classroom, April 3 at the 2005 AAS Annual Meeting in Chicago. Professor Bien also secured a room for April 2, 2005 for CLTA members and other interested people to meet and talk about “Teaching Asian Languages: What do we have in common?” at the AAS conference. Board Member Yea-fen Chen is working on possible sponsors of the round table discussion, which will be moderated by Board Member Julian Wheatley. If you plan to attend the AAS conference please come to these events. Another important event last year was that the College Board started the AP Chinese Program under the guidance of a task force of 12 members from our field. The first AP Chinese courses will be offered worldwide in the fall of 2006, followed by the exam in May of 2007. The AP Chinese Program will have a significant impact on the teaching and learning of Chinese. In order to ensure the success of the AP Chinese Program I would encourage all to visit the web site of the AP Chinese regularly (http://apcentral.collegeboard.com/article/0,3045,150-158-0-37221,00.html), and send your comments, suggestions and advice to any of the task-force members that are listed on the AP Chinese web site. Finally, the Year of Languages, another exciting event, has been started to advance the teaching and learning of world languages. ACTFL created a web site: www.yearoflanguages.org/, which consists of important happenings throughout the country and many ideas that we can use to expand our professional enhancement and to promote the study of Chinese. I would like to urge our members to take the opportunity of Year of Languages to convince more people to join CLTA.

In 2004, CLTA designated the Walton Award for lifetime achievement in Chinese language education to Professors Yeh Te-ming and John Montanaro. Congratulations, Yeh Laoshi, and Montanaro Laoshi, and thank you for your outstanding contributions to our profession. The 2004 Walton Travel Award was given to Ms Alice Lee; the Cheng&Tsui Award to Ms. Peng Wang; the Jiede Award to Dr. Meng Yeh. Congratulations to all!

The best of the season and a bright and fulfilling Year 2005 to all!

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND REPORTS

A Report from Program Committee Chair

This year’s program committee consisted of four members: Hong Gang Jin (Chair), Claudia Ross, Gloria Bien, and Songren Cui. I feel extremely fortunate to have had the opportunity to work with such a talented and dedicated team throughout the year.

At the beginning of 2004, thanks to the help of ITS at Hamilton College, an on-line submission system was set up for the conference. 100% of the conference proposals, both in Chinese and in English, were submitted either on-line or via email, without any technical difficulties. Altogether, we received 32 panel proposals, 60 paper proposals, and two workshop proposals, for a total 181 proposals, representing a 15-20% increase over previous years.

Based on the review guidelines we agreed upon in advance, and on the number of panel slots allotted to CLTA, the committee selected 25 panels. The average acceptance rate for this year’s conference was 48%. As indicated in the program, the topics of this year’s program included (a) CFL language acquisition; (b) technology and CFL language teaching; (c) input/interaction/instruction analysis; (d) instructional design and material development; (e) language testing and assessment; (f) field building study and survey; (g) pedagogical grammar and language teaching; (h) study abroad; (i) classical Chinese; and (j) business Chinese.

Our yearlong preparation culminated in the CLTA annual meeting at the Chicago Hilton 11/19-11/21, 2004. In all 96 panelists in 25 panels shared their exciting and innovative research and teaching ideas with conference participants in paper presentations, panel discussions, and materials demonstrations. Even with three concurrent sessions, every meeting room overflowed with interested and enthusiastic audiences. The rooms were full even for the Sunday morning panels. Many participants remarked on the excellent attendance and constructive discussions.

During the conference, we conducted a written survey on conference themes, panel arrangements, topic coverage, and other logistics. We received many constructive comments and suggestions, from which we are preparing a detailed analysis to send to the Board of Directors for discussion. We will negotiate with ACTFL and hope to resolve such pressing issues as conference rooms before next year’s conference.

Finally, I would like to take this opportunity to express my heartfelt thanks to the three committee members who dedicated their time and efforts to this conference. My sincere thanks also go to all CLTA members and conference participants for their patience and support, to Cyndy Ning for her effective coordination of all conference logistics, to China Books and China Sprout for their generous support for our CLTA banquet, to Professor Emeritus George Chao for his kind help in arranging the CLTA banquet, to Yeafen Chen for her kind help in conducting the conference survey, and to Professor Rohsenow for a fine lecture.

At the CLTA Annual Meeting, the CLTA Walton Award for contributions to the field of Chinese language teaching was presented jointly to John Montanaro of Yale University and Far Eastern Publications, and Yeh Teh-ming of National Taiwan Normal University. Cynthia Ning accepted the award on behalf of Montanaro, and Hsin Shih-chang on behalf of Yeh.

Subject: Walter Award
"I'm honored to receive the Walton Award. My one regret is that my wife and I cannot be there to accept it in person. I would have loved to see all of you once again. To be recognized and honored by the CLTA, the association of Chinese language teaching professionals that has given cohesion and direction to our profession for so many years is honor enough, but in addition to be associated with such names as John DeFrancis, Teng Shou-hsin, George Chao and other honorees, is humbling indeed. WO ZHEN SHI BU GAN DANG! My wife, Pat, and I are sincerely grateful for this honor."

Hsin Chih-chang, on behalf of Yeh The-ming, receives the Walton Award.

得獎感言

各位CLTA委員，各位朋友:

感謝CLTA頒給本人的這份殊榮，我首先得向我九十三歲的父親報告這項好消息，並向栽培我的師長致謝。我也得謝謝我的同事，鄭守信教授、信世昌教授、曾金金教授、陳俊光教授、林秀惠教授，以及CLTA海內外熱愛對外華語教學的朋友們。CLTA使我們在對外華語教學上互通有無，切磋共進，教學相長，和諧共榮。

回首華語文教學工作，猶如一場充滿光輝與挑釁的戰場，從朦朧無知的青澀年少到經驗成熟的牧人，學習到不少人生的課題。其實退休只是人生的兩個里程，我將循著我的軌道行走，完成尚未寫完的有關華語教學的書籍。

我對華語文教學仍然充滿了憧憬，但願『華語/漢語』在CLTA各位朋友的努力發揚下，除了英語之外，我希望華語文將成為全世界的第二語言。讓我們拭目以待，謝謝各位。

Chinese Language Instruction & Adoptive Families

Language learning & adoption. What is relevant to the Chinese classroom?
By Anne Martin-Montgomery

The Chinese Teachers Guide To Adoption is an ethnographic survey of adoptive families and Chinese language teachers. It was designed to address the specific needs and interests of Chinese teachers & adoptive families. Each language teacher will encounter adopted children at some point in their teaching experience. Obtaining a greater knowledge of adoption in general and adoption from China & Taiwan in particular is relevant to all Chinese language teachers. This survey is ongoing and will continue for the near future. 84 parents, teachers, and children have indicated their interest in joining the survey.

To date, the interviews have revealed differences in communication styles & cultural ideas regarding adoption, teaching methods, and learning goals. The most significant finding is the central role parents have played in educating language teachers about adoption. The second major finding is the difference regarding language motivations, goals and objectives. The definition of “learning Chinese” and the means to successfully fulfill this goal was different for parents and teachers in the survey.

The goals of the project are to:
• Prepare a definitive Guide to Adoption for Chinese Language Teachers.
• Provide a list of recommended resources about adoption for Chinese Language Teachers.
• Contribute to the literature on bilingual education and transracial adoption.

For more information on the survey or to participate, please contact AdoptionGuide@BetterChinese.com, montgoms@comcast.net or 610-635-1189 to schedule a telephone interview. If you prefer to answer the survey via email, or if you would like the interview to be conducted in Chinese, let me know. All surveys are confidential. You may share a copy of this article with your school, listserv, organization newsletter, or webpage. Please let the author know when reproducing the article to avoid duplicate requests.

Study Abroad in Hainan, China in Summer 2005

The University of Hawaii at Manoa (UHM) Study Abroad Center is currently accepting applications for its Summer 2005 program in Hainan, China.
Tao-chung Yao, UHM Professor of Chinese, will be the faculty resident director for this nine-week program that will run from mid-May through the end of July. The program is hosted by the College of Liberal Arts at Hainan University in Haikou city. Participants will study all four language skills (listening, speaking, reading, and writing) and will earn eight UHM credits at the second, third, or fourth levels. In addition, guest lectures on Chinese culture and excursions expose students to the rich cultural history of Hainan. individual papers, poster sessions, and panel presentations. The deadline for proposal submissions will be midnight, Tuesday, February 15, 2005.

In resonance with the theme of the ACTFL 2005 Annual Meeting 2005-2015: Realizing Our Vision of Languages for All, the CLTA 2005 convention will feature the theme Taking TCFL to a New Level: Challenges and Prospects.

As one of five co-sponsors of the ACTFL 2005 Annual Meeting and Exposition, CLTA encourages Chinese language educators from all areas of the profession to submit proposals to its Program Committee. Our Program Committee welcomes submissions on such topics as applied linguistics, assessment, culture, curriculum/program design, film, heritage learners, learner variables, literature, materials, multimedia, pedagogy/methods, policy/advocacy, professional development, research, second language acquisition, technology and other related topics.

Sessions are 75 minutes long. Each panel will be limited to four fifteen-minute presentations-- including the presentation by a formal discussant (optional), with 15 minutes left for questions and answers. A paper presenter may also serve as panel chair but not as panel discussant. Accepted individual presentations will be grouped into panels by theme. The Program Committee will consider and review proposals in accordance with the following guidelines.

- Only proposals from CURRENT CLTA members will be considered.
- Only one proposal from each person will be considered.
- All proposals will be reviewed anonymously.
- Proposals will be reviewed in terms of relevancy and significance of topics to the concerns of the field, originality and innovation of perspectives, presentation of theoretical framework and arguments, clarity and rigor of analysis and critical thinking, and overall understanding of the topics proposed for presentation.

How to Submit

- You may submit proposals or download proposal submission forms in English and in Chinese (.pdf) online at http://www.languages.utah.edu/clta05/.

Call for Papers
International interdisciplinary conference
Hanzi renzhi - How Western Learners Discover the World of Written Chinese
24.-26. August 2005
School of Applied Linguistics and Cultural Studies
Germersheim, Mainz University
Germany

Introduction
The Chinese Department at the School of Applied Linguistics and Cultural Studies at Johannes Gutenberg
University of Mainz / Germersheim (Fachbereich für Angewandte Sprach- und Kulturwissenschaften [FASK]) in cooperation with the Center for Chinese as a Second Language (Duiwai Hanyu yanjiu zhongxin) at Beijing Language University (BLCU) is pleased to announce the international conference "Hànzi rènzhi - How Western Learners Discover the World of Written Chinese" to be held at the FASK in Germersheim, Germany, from 24.- 26. August 2005.

Scientific objectives
The conference is aimed at gaining relevant insights from the perspectives of writing linguistics, intercultural communication, neuropsychology, cognition psychology, sinology, text linguistics, sinographemics (Xiandai Hanzixue) and FLT (Foreign Language Teaching) in order to contribute to the discussion of the impact of different writing systems on language consciousness and language learning and possibly facilitate the development of access methods to the Chinese writing system for alphabetic readers. As not only reading experience, but also the way how the Chinese character system is taught will influence motivation and the speed with which certain stages of reading ability are reached, Teaching Chinese as a Foreign Language (TCFL) to alphabetic readers is the field objected to profit most from this conference. Based on the fact that Foreign Language Teaching is dominated by phonetically written languages (and not only in the Western world), questions like the following will be discussed by the attendants of the conference:

- What are the global impacts caused by the seclusiveness and "hermeticity" of Hanzi?
- Does early Hanzi acquisition stimulate certain brain regions?
- Can Western learners ever master a reading speed of Chinese texts comparable to that of Chinese readers?
- Can we succeed in making the world of written Chinese more accessible for Western recipients?
- What are the connections and differences between Chinese Language acquisition and Chinese character acquisition?
- How many Hanzi do we need to cross the border from deciphering to reading?
- What are the advantages and disadvantages of using transcription systems (like Hanyu Pinyin) in CFL teaching?
- If there were sufficient teaching materials, how would Western learners master Hanyu Pinyin texts compared to Hanzi texts?
- What is the function of mnemonic helps, linguistic and etymographical knowledge to alphabetic readers in reading Chinese texts?

Conference Languages are English and Chinese.

The presentations will be published as part of the series "Sinolinguistica", which is published by the Association for Chinese Language Teaching in German Speaking Countries (Fachverband Chinesisch) at Iudicium publishing house, Munich.

We are planning to start talks with representatives of other European Countries focusing on a possible founding of a European Association of Teachers of Chinese during the Conference.

Information for the authors

The Conference will be held at the School for Applied Sciences and Cultural Studies (FASK) in Germersheim from 24.-26.08.2004. Interested authors should submit an abstract of their paper via email to mpoerner@uni-mainz.de. Note that only electronic submissions will be considered. The Submission deadline is January 15th, 2004. Contributors will be notified by the end of February. The 3rd International Conference and Workshops on Technology and Chinese Language Teaching (TCLT3)

Was held at Columbia University

May 28-30, 2004

(by De Bao Xu)

http://www.hamilton.edu/academics/eal/con/c3/TCLT3.html

Co-sponsored by Hamilton College and Columbia University, TCLT3, the 3rd International Conference and Workshops on Technology and Chinese Language Teaching in the 21st Century was successfully held at Columbia University in May 28-30, 2004.

TCLT3 was a three-day event equally divided into panel discussions and workshops. Vice President and Dean of Faculty of Hamilton College David Paris delivered the Opening Remarks followed by Professor Shang Wei from Columbia University to give another Welcome Speech. Two keynote speeches were arranged before the conference. Peter Patrikis, Executive Director of the Consortium for Language Teaching and Learning at Yale University, gave one and Audrey Li, Chair and Professor of East Asian Languages and Linguistics, University of Southern California delivered the other.

There were 112 registered participants from nine countries attended TCLT3, which were far beyond the anticipated number of 80. There were 46 selected papers/presentations (60% from submitted proposals) and 4 hands-on workshops repeated in two days (totally 8 workshop sessions). The 46 selected papers/presentations solely focused on multimedia and computer-based language teaching. Their topics covered all areas in the field ranging from theoretical issues and researches to results and reports of implementing and incorporating technology in Chinese language teaching and introductions and applications of newly developed programs and software in CALL. The 8 hand-on workshop sessions lasted for two days particularly teaching up-to-date new technologies and software in Chinese language instruction with a focus on multimedia presentation and web course design.

One new feature of TCLT3 was its Proceedings published with the conference. Participants actually could read the full-sized papers/presentations before they attended each session. As a result, all the panel presentations inspired warm discussions and positive feedback. The available Proceedings at the conference had played an important role in the success of TCLT3. The new ideas, new techs, and new methodologies and approaches collected in the Proceedings will have a prolonged impact on technology and Chinese language teaching after the conference.

TCLT1 was initiated and held at Hamilton College in 2000. TCLT2 was co-sponsored by Hamilton College and Yale University and held at Yale University in 2002. With respect to size, TCLT3 was two times larger than TCLT1 and almost doubled the size of TCLT2. Compared with similar conferences (TTLC and ICICE, see below), TCLT3 was comparable to TTLC and ICICE in participants, having become one of the three most well-participated international conferences on Technology and Chinese Language Teaching. In terms of focus, inspiration, and influence, TCLT3 was highly specialized in Technology and Chinese Language Teaching and had inspired a greater deal of wave in CALL study and Technology-based Chinese Language Instruction. There are two similar biennial conferences in this field. One is TTLC in Beijing (4th conference held in July, 2004); the other is ICICE in Taipei (3rd conference held in Oct. 2003).

TCLT4 will be co-sponsored by Hamilton College and University of Southern California and hosted by USC and several other UC institutions including UC Long Beach and UC San Diego in June 2006.

The Organizing Committee of TCLT3 is listed below for reference:

- De Bao Xu, Hamilton College (Chair and Conference Co-chair)
- Phyllis Zhang, Columbia University (Conference Co-chair)
- Jianhua Bai, Kenyon College
- Hong Gang Jin, Hamilton College
- Le-ning Liu, Columbia University
- Scott McGinnis, DLI-Washington Office
- Ling Mu, Yale University
- Robert Smitheram, Middlebury College

New Ways of Teaching Chinese: A Chinese Teacher Training Workshop
(by Hongyin Tao, UCLA)

The Workshop, attended by 48 Chinese language teachers from institutions ranging from K-12 to college across the nation, was successfully held at the University of California, Los Angeles on October 30, 2004. The workshop featured three sessions. 1) Technology. Chengzhi Chu of UC Davis introduced the ChineseTA software program, and participants were given an opportunity to practice the software for their own use. 2) Heritage language instruction. Huey Lin, UCLA, demonstrated ways to integrate language acquisition theories into the teaching of Chinese as a heritage language. Participants were then directed to form groups to discuss a set of lessons and conduct teaching demonstrations. 3) Authentic material and grammar teaching. With a case study of ‘le’, Hongyin Tao of UCLA showed how authentic language material can be used to reveal patterns of grammar that are missing in textbooks. A demonstration of the application of concordance tools for advanced grammar teaching was also provided. This workshop was made possible with funding from CALPER, Penn State University and the UC Consortium for Language Learning and Teaching.

For updated information about the workshop (including downloadable documents), visit: http://www.bol.ucla.edu/~ht37/workshop.
太极拳。书法班和国画班的学生，结业时把他们的作品裱裱好，开了一个展览，琳琅满目，美不胜收。许多学生都不相信自己竟能画作出如此佳作，笑谓将来可以在美国唐人街办展览卖画了。

除了校内丰富多彩的学习生活外，北大留学生办公室还为学生安排了周全的校外活动。学生们欣赏了京剧、杂技，参观了故宫、天坛、鼓楼、恭王府，还在古北口农村住了一夜，并登上了一步步地走的古北口司马台长城，一个个都成了“好汉”。学生们还参加了中国海外交流协会举办的2004年海外青少年寻团的开幕式，七十多国家的近三千名华裔青少年在人民大会堂聚会，友情和亲情感交融，欢声和笑语共鸣，那盛大的场面，热烈的气氛，令大家深受感动。中国语言教学研究中心还为每位学生介绍了一个中国大学生作为语言互助伙伴，让他们有机会与中国朋友深入交谈，有机会访问中国家庭，吃家常便饭。

这丰富多彩的文化生活，让学生们充分感受到古老辉煌的中华文化的无比魅力，不少华裔学生觉得真的寻到了自己的“根”，并为自己的中国血统感到十分自豪。

学习结束后，中国语言教学研究中心还为学生安排了十二天的旅游参观。他们去了西安、南京、合肥、黄山、杭州，最后来到上海，并登上浦东金茂大厦，鸟瞰大上海全景。大家对中国建设的飞速发展印象很深，说：“上海相当于纽约加巴黎。”在上海的告别聚会上，学生们都依依话别，说以后还要继续学习中文，争取再来中国。回美后，加州中国语言教学研究中心将哈佛大学王丁丁，麻省理工学院樊天玉，杜克大学王文昊，宾州大学鲍学满，加州大学伯克莱分校刘仰昭，洛杉矶分校赵崇达六位学生在北大上课时的作文在美国侨报上刊出，让更多的人分享了他们在中国的经历和感受。

现在，中国语言教学研究中心和北大合作的2005年暑期中文班已开始接受报名，计划6月26日到达北京，27日至8月5日强化学习中文6周，学生住北大校园内新盖的留学生宿舍，两人一间，房内有空调、电视、国际直拨电话和洗澡间，星期一至五，上午上课4小时，下午个别辅导。课程采取小班分科制，学生可根据自己的情况选上不同程度的口语课和阅读课，另设免费的太极拳班、书法、国画等课程可供选修，周六更有集体参观名胜古迹等活动，去如故宫、天坛、恭王府及古北口长城等。学生在北大的成绩单可在美国各大校转换学分。8月5日至16日，将由教师带领去西安、合肥、黄山、杭州、苏州、上海等地实习旅游12天，8月16日返美。

2005年计划招生80人，因北大住房紧缺，前50名住留学生宿舍，后30名将安排住入条件更好的北大宾馆，但房费也将增加一些。以招收大学、研究生和应届高中毕业生为主。欲知详情，请询问加州中国语言教学研究中心:

Though using literary and philosophical materials, this advanced textbook differs from its peers in that it is not a “reader.” Equipped with a large quantity of exercises, hitherto unseen in a Chinese language textbook at the advanced level, it aims to advance the language abilities of the “advanced students” by training them in cognitive and productive skills in a systematic and down-to-earth manner. For the first time the attention in studying master works of literature is not focused on the great messages they deliver, but on the linguistic or rhetorical techniques that the authors adopt to describe, argue and advance their opinions. Students are guided away from mere “reading comprehension” to focus on the mastery of the higher-level communicative skills so that they can express their own thoughts and feelings properly and effectively. Unlike with a “reader,” the instructor no longer needs to worry about preparing their own grammar explanations, because there are plenty in this textbook conducted from the lexical, syntactical and rhetorical levels. In addition to the aforementioned substantial amount of exercises developed with clear goals in mind, another “teacher-friendly” feature is the inclusion of extra reading materials on topics of similar social and philosophical concerns. Attached at the back of the textbook, this design adds further convenience and flexibility to the teaching of Chinese at the advanced level.

Chinese Fiction of the Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Centuries
Essays by Patrick Hanan
December 2004, 300 pages
0-231-13324-3 cloth $34.50 / £22.50

Patrick Hanan is Victor S. Thomas Professor of Chinese Literature emeritus at Harvard University. He is the author of The Chinese Vernacular Story and The Invention of Li Yu, and the translator of The Car nal Prayer Mat, The Sea of Regret, and A Tower for the Summer Heat (Columbia) among other works.

It has often been said that the nineteenth century was a relatively stagnant period for Chinese fiction, but preeminent scholar Patrick Hanan shows that the opposite is true: the finest novels of the nineteenth century show a constant experimentation and evolution. In this collection of detailed and insightful essays, Hanan examines Chinese fiction before and during the period in which Chinese writers first came into contact with western fiction.

Hanan explores the uses made of fiction by westerners in China; the adaptation and integration of western methods in Chinese fiction; and the continued vitality of the Chinese fictional tradition. Some western missionaries, for example, wrote religious novels in Chinese, almost always with the aid of native assistants who tended to change aspects of the work to “fit” Chinese taste. Later, such works as Washington Irving’s "Rip Van Winkle," Jonathan Swift’s "A Voyage to Lilliput," the novels of Jules Verne, and French detective stories were translated into Chinese. These interventions and their effects are explored here for virtually the first time.

ChineseNet 1.0

ChineseNet 1.0, the Chinese language searchable database housed at the National Foreign Language Center, is now available for access at http://www.langnet.umd.edu/chinese.aspx. ChineseNet 1.0 consists of brief reviews of a variety of resources available in the Chinese language-learning field. It has been developed by members of the Chinese Language Task Force, a working subgroup of the Chinese Language Field Initiative (CLFI).

Your feedback and comments regarding both the usability and usefulness of ChineseNet 1.0 will be VERY much appreciated. As you will note, as it currently exists, there is still a quite limited number of topic areas and learning resources available through the database. But the long term goal remains, ever since the inception of CLFI in 2001, to develop an ongoing national collaborative mechanism for field and program development through resource sharing. The British Chinese Language Teaching Seminar (BCLTS) is an organization of Chinese language teachers in universities and other language teaching institutions in the UK. It is also a sub-group of the British Association for Chinese Studies (BACS). Its objective is to improve the teaching of Chinese language in the UK by means of exchanging teaching experience and teaching materials. At present, two workshops are held annually to achieve this goal.

The activities of the BCLTS are currently funded by the Oxford Centre for Teaching Chinese as a

2005-2006 PROGRAMS Summer, Semester, and Academic Year

Inter-University Program for Chinese Language Studies (IUP) announces its 2005 Summer Intensive Program and its 2005-2006 Semester and Academic Year Programs, all located at Tsinghua University in Beijing. IUP, originally established in Taiwan in 1963, is the premier U.S.-sponsored in-situ Chinese language program intended for students who aspire to truly advanced competence, whether they be graduate or undergraduate students (in the U.S. or abroad), recently graduated university students, professionals, or established scholars in the field of Chinese studies. IUP's mission is to raise students' Chinese language proficiency to the level of academic or professional functionality. IUP alumni who have chosen careers in China possess the linguistic skills to function successfully in such areas as public relations, law, business, academia, and journalism. Applicants must have completed the equivalent of at least two academic years of Chinese language and also have an excellent academic record. Financial aid, in the form of partial tuition waivers, is available from IUP (academic year and semester programs only), though students are also encouraged to seek outside sources of funding. The application deadline for the summer program is February 16, 2005, and the deadline for the semester and academic year programs is January 12, 2005. Learn Chinese from Modern Writers
An Interactive Multimedia Language Program
By Dr. Chung-wen Shih

It includes 240 interactive activities to improve the user’s reading, listening, and speaking skills. The workbook provides additional writing practice, along with vocabulary lists, glossary, and scripts of the CD in Chinese and English.

CD-ROM $100  *  Workbook, 208 pages $25

Comments by Chinese Language Specialists and Users:

The CD program, Learn Chinese from Modern Writers, fills two critical gaps in Chinese language teaching. In technology, it fully utilizes what is now possible in multimedia presentation and interactive learning. In content, it enriches advanced-level authentic materials, with a content base linked to literature and its social milieu.

-- Dr. Scott McGinnis, formerly, President, Chinese Language Teachers Association.

The interactive CD Dr. Shih developed is one of the best tools for teaching Chinese. It allows students to do various exercises, including speaking, testing themselves, playing game-exercises, listening to dialects and different pronunciations and then going back to standard Mandarin voice-overs. Sound-image coordination is first rate. Our students find its interactive features and unique content greatly helpful in learning the language.

-- Dr. Jonathan Chaves, Department of East Asian Languages and Literatures, The George Washington University.

The multimedia course, Learn Chinese from Modern Writers, is highly useful, and its interactive CD is one of the very best. It is well designed and produced, easy to operate, and very effective. It fills a need in the field of Chinese language teaching.

-- Dr. Lening Liu, Director of Columbia University Beijing Chinese Program.

The CD’s dual tracks, one with standard Mandarin and one with the writers’ regional accents, are especially helpful in introducing students to different dialects. A Reader in Modern Chinese Literature, a supplementary reader, fills a special need of our students who wish to learn more of the writers’ works.

-- Jin Zhang, Lecturer of Chinese, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.
