GENERAL EDUCATION -- BREADTH REQUIREMENTS

General education is an important aspect of personal development. It is that part of your university program which encourages you to develop or improve such basic life skills as creativity, critical thinking, self-motivation, independence, an understanding of values, and a general philosophy by which to make decisions throughout life. Possession of these skills makes possible your continued personal growth and the further development of your creative and adaptive capabilities—qualities necessary for you to adjust to and influence a rapidly changing world. It is the basis for lifelong learning, and it can increase your ability to be self-directing and to view learning as interrelated elements and not as isolated fragments. It is, in effect, a "Survival Kit" for the rest of your life.

At California State University, Long Beach, Courses approved for General Education credit provide:

--- Information:
the raw material for thinking, analysis, reflection, and discourse

--- Methods of Inquiry:
direction and practice in methodologies of the several disciplines

--- Basic Skills:
the ability to analyze ideas and data, to relate these to other materials, to develop arguments both logical and cogent, to reach conclusions, and to present the results of these processes with clarity and style

--- Qualities of Mind:
  a respect for data and unpleasant facts; an appreciation of the arts; tolerance, commitment, a taste for learning; creativity, perpetual curiosity, and a sensitivity to ethical considerations.

The academic major which each student selects provides training in depth within a single discipline. The provision within most majors for a number of free electives allows students to follow personal interests. Beyond these important aspects of every student's academic career lies education for breadth—the opportunity to explore other societies, their cultural variety, and the products of human thought and mechanical ingenuity; the chance to learn new analytical approaches and to evaluate other perspectives and problem-solving techniques; and the promise of an introduction to new areas of knowledge and new career options.

To aid you in the process of developing a meaningful and integrative program in General Education, the University offers these forms of assistance:

--- Academic advisement, including assistance with General Education throughout the year in the Academic Advising Center and in departmental and school offices;

--- A special listing, in the Schedule of Classes, of those courses which the faculty have specified as being appropriate for the General Education Requirement in each category;

--- An "Advising Section" in the Schedule of Classes with information and suggestions about how to maximize your educational opportunities through General Education and the wise use of electives.

General Regulations

The present policy of the Board of Trustees of The California State University and Colleges is that students graduating from CSUC campuses must fulfill certain breadth requirements (Section 40405, Title 5, California Administrative Code). Of these, a minimum of 9 semester units must be upper-division courses taken at the campus conferring the degree. Partial credit may be transferred from another institution; participating regionally accredited institutions may certify completion of no more than 39 semester units.

Each campus in the CSUC System may define which of its classes satisfy its General Education Requirements and determine which courses are transferable from other institutions (except where 39 units of credit are certified as above). The campus may add requirements and enact other regulations.

California State University, Long Beach General Education Requirements

Each California State University, Long Beach, baccalaureate graduate must have completed at least 31 semester units of General Education courses. Only courses specifically approved for General Education and so listed in the Schedule of Classes may be used to fulfill General Education requirements.

At least nine of the 31 General Education units must be upper-division units taken after the student achieves upper-division standing (completion of 60 semester units). These nine units must be completed at CSULB.

At least six units must be selected from among approved Interdisciplinary Courses (IC) in any of the categories specified below, but no more than three units may be counted in any one category. Interdisciplinary Courses may be approved for exemption from the 3-unit-per-category limit (to a maximum of six units) when two or more schools are involved. These exemptions are specifically noted in the Individual course descriptions and in the Schedule of Classes.

The 31 units of General Education course work include three units of work in U.S. History and three units in U.S. Constitution and American Ideals. (Required Section 40404 of Title 5, California Administrative Code.) The student has the option of receiving credit by examination; departments will make such examinations available. A student who fails any such examination has the option of repeating the examination without penalty, or taking the course(s) which satisfy the requirement. A student who has met any of these requirements prior to enrollment at CSULB is exempt. Unit credit (to be included in the 31-unit General Education requirement total) and the total number of units required for graduation, but not in the student's grade point average) shall be granted for satisfactory completion of examination(s) in these subjects. Credit by examination, however, is subject to conditions specified in the Bulletin.

CHEATING AND PLAGIARISM

California State University, Long Beach has adopted a policy on cheating and plagiarism.

Cheating is defined as the act of obtaining or attempting to obtain credit for work by the use of any dishonest, decepti-tive or fraudulent means. Examples of cheating would include, but not be limited to the following: copying, either in part or in whole, from another's test or examination; discussion of answers or ideas relating to the answers on an examination or test when such discussion is prohibited by the instructor; obtaining copies of an exam without the permission of the instructor; using notes, "cheat sheets," or otherwise utilizing information or devices not considered appropriate under the prescribed test conditions; plagiarism as defined; altering or interfering with the grading procedure; allowing someone other than the officially enrolled student to represent the same.

Plagiarism is defined as the act of taking ideas, words, or specific substance of another and offering them as one's own, without giving credit to the source. Such an act is not plagiarism if it reasonably appears that the thought or idea was arrived at through independent reasoning or logic or where the thought or idea is common knowledge. When sources are used, acknowledgment of the original author or source must be made through appropriate references, i.e., citation marks, apprises, etc. Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to, the following: the submission of a written work, either in part or in whole, completed by another; failure to give credit in a footnote for ideas, statements, facts or conclusions which rightfully belong to another; failure to use quotation marks when quoting directly from another; whether it be a paragraph, a sentence, or even a part thereof; close and lengthy paraphrasing of another's writing.

One or more of the following actions are available to the faculty member who suspects a student has been cheating or plagiarizing. These options may be taken by the faculty member to the extent that the faculty member considers the Cheating or plagiarism to manifest the student's lack of scholarship or to reflect on the student's lack of academic performance in the course; (see * below)

1. Review--no action
2. An oral reprimand with emphasis on counseling toward prevention of further occurrences
3. A requirement that the work be repeated
4. A reduction of the grade earned on the specific work in question
5. A reduction in the course grade as a result of Section 4 above
6. Referral to the Office of Judicial Affairs, Student Services/Administration Building (see discussion above)

Sanctions from the Office of Judicial Affairs are pursuant to the authority provided in Section 41301 of Title 5 of the California Administrative Code. Copies of Section 41301 of Title 5 may be found in the University Bulletin and the Campus Regulations, available in the Office of Judicial Affairs. Copies of Chancellor's Executive Order 148, Student Disciplinary Procedures for the California State University and Colleges, are also available upon request.

In addition to the rights described elsewhere in the document, the student is entitled to the following, as extracted in pertinent part: to receive notice of the nature of the charges and available evidence via an informal office confercence with the professor; where more than one person has been accused stemming from a common time and incident, to choose to have his case heard separately, or as a member of the group, and decisions rendered accordingly; to have the discussions and notes held confidential except as they may pertain to subsequent legal or administrative proceedings; to appear relative to the course grade received; to have allegations brought within 120 calendar days of discovery of the possible cheating or plagiarism offense; and to be informed that the policy on cheating and plagiarism exists.

Copies of the entire document are available in every academic departmental office, and in the Office of Judicial Affairs.

* This policy is being reviewed as this publication goes to press. Be sure to check current policy in the event a change is instituted.
